ARTIST BIOGRAPHY

Silvio Porzionato was born in Moncalieri, Italy in 1971 and has developed one of the most compelling figurative practices in contemporary Italian painting. Based in Turin, his monumental portraits occupy a territory between hyperrealism and dreamlike reinvention — faces and figures rendered with photographic precision yet suffused with an emotional and painterly atmosphere that transcends documentation. His work has been exhibited internationally across Europe, the United States, and Asia, and is held in significant private and corporate collections worldwide. Porzionato's paintings are regularly described as 'stolen photographs' — snapshots of inner states that the camera could never access.

ARTWORK DESCRIPTION

Presence III exemplifies Porzionato's mastery of the large-format figurative portrait — a work in which the scale itself becomes an argument for the importance of the subject. At 77 x 51 inches, the figure occupies the canvas with an almost physical authority, the oil paint surface lending a warmth and texture that photographic reproductions cannot replicate. Porzionato's technique deploys the codes of traditional portraiture while systematically undermining its conventions — the face simultaneously familiar and estranged, rendered with a delicacy that makes the painting seem almost incidental, as though the presence of the subject preceded the act of painting. The title positions the work within Porzionato's sustained inquiry into what it means to be seen, and what painting makes visible that other media cannot.
